

There is NO WAY I want you to allow cell phone useage in airplanes in flight. It is bad enough while we sit at the gate, but to have this irritation inflicted upon us for the entire flight would be too much!! The only exception I would make to this is to have a sealed, noise proof section in the back of the plane reserved for those who can't help themselves. Other than that, No Way.